

My Spirit

I am in the sunrise to welcome you to the new day.
I am in the wind to caress you and call your name.
I am in the running, babbling brook laughing to bring you joy.

I am in the dancing flames of the fire to warm your heart with memories.

I am in the flowers that bloom to share my smile with you.

I am in the evergreens to remind you that my spirit is always with you.

I am in the sunset to ease out of the day and relax.

I am in the moon to watch over you while you sleep.

Wherever you are, my spirit is with you loving you always.
